24. Summarize the interview with officer contacted: (See separate instructions)

Mr. Gleason, Vice-President Southern Title Company, said that he was interested only in placing surplus assets of the Company in very conservative loans, and therefore was not troubled with competition.

He is interested when he has some money to invest for the Company in getting loans from $2,000 to $5,000, few of which are as high as 50% loans. He makes his own appraisal for all the loans up to $7,500.00.

Mr. Gleason believes the real estate situation in San Diego is wholesome, and that the encouraging activities now apparent should continue for a number of years. He believes that there is almost no vacancy in single family houses, and that the "undoubling" process is still going on. Consequently he believes that new building will not get ahead of the demand for new houses.

His Company's title and escrow business has improved greatly in recent months, which he believes reflects the activity in real estate market generally.

When asked about San Diego's Ad Valorem Improvement district program, Mr. Gleason stated that determined efforts now are being made locally to solve the problem satisfactorily.
