SAN FRANCISCO viewed from Twin Peaks . . . the broad ribbon of Market Street extends from the Ferry Building through the heart of the City . . . Yerba Buena Island . . . the Bay . . . across the bay are Oakland, Piedmont, Berkeley and Richmond ranged against the hills in the background . . . and, dominating all, the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, starting from Rincon Hill, sweeps across the deep water channel, tunnels Yerba Buena, and coasting over two miles of cantilevers and trestles, reaches the East Bay communities.