CLARIFYING REMARKS:
The southern part of this area was part of what was known as Willow Glen, a separate municipality which was recently annexed to San Jose. The recent re-submitting of a mature district bond issue, which affected this portion, has favorably influenced it. If it were not for its location and high percentage of development, this area would be accorded an "A" classification. Palm Haven Avenue is a highly charming residential thoroughfare and compares favorably with any street in this section. The proposed new junior high school to the south will, when erected, affect this area favorably.
